COVID-19 SUMMARY

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

On 03/02/20 at 0700 hours, the Cal OES State Operations Center (SOC) activated in support of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Medical Health Coordination Center's (MHCC) statewide response to COVID-19. Cal OES will continue to provide resource coordination for the COVID-19 event, as well as situation status reporting and advance planning across multiple areas.

SMARTER Plan

On 02/17/22, Governor Newsom unveiled the "California SMARTER Plan: The Next Phase of California's COVID-19 Response". The plan emphasizes continued readiness, awareness and flexibility and helps ensure California can maintain its focus on communities that continue to be disproportionately impacted and stay prepared to swiftly and effectively respond to emerging COVID-19 variants and changing conditions.

WEATHER KEY POINTS

03/12/22 - 03/18/22

Saturday-Sunday

- Locally gusty offshore and onshore winds will be noted across the southern California mountains and foothills through Sunday, while stronger southwest winds also develop across northern California Saturday morning, spreading into the Sierra, Tehachapi Mountains, and Transverse Ranges through Saturday afternoon and night. Gusts of 40 to locally 65+ mph are expected, highest across the Sierra and Modoc County.
 - Fire weather conditions will become elevated across the southern California foothills and mountains Saturday afternoon due to very dry conditions and the gusty conditions
- Periods of mainly light rain and mountain snow will slide through the northern quarter of the state later Saturday afternoon through early Sunday afternoon
 - Mainly light precipitation amounts are expected, though snow levels will drop as low as 4,500 feet, especially Saturday night and early Sunday, bringing some impacts travel over mountain passes
 - Some localized higher precipitation amounts exceeding 1 inch are expected across far northwest California, mainly across Del Norte and far northern Humboldt Counties

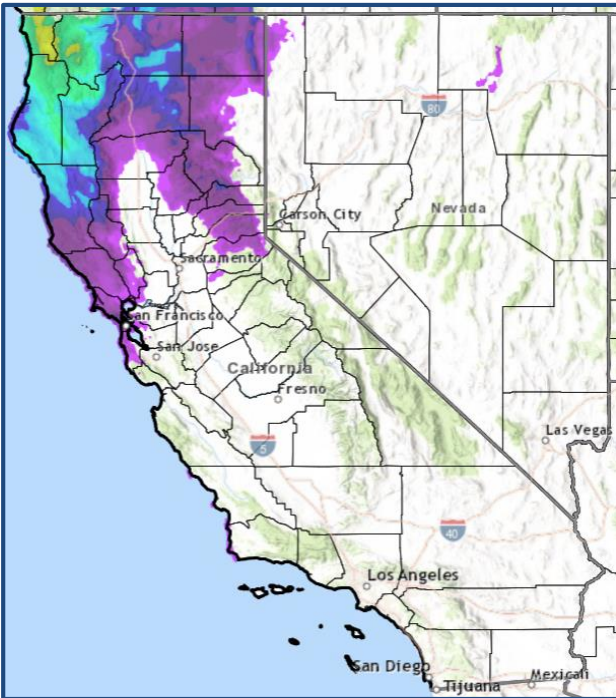

Monday-Friday

- Another weather system will spread additional light precipitation to more of northern California Monday evening into early Wednesday, with much higher snow levels, mainly above 6,500 feet. At this time, no widespread impacts are expected as much of this precipitation will be very beneficial.
- A few additional periods of gusty winds are expected across the southern California mountains and foothills through midweek, and also over far northern California

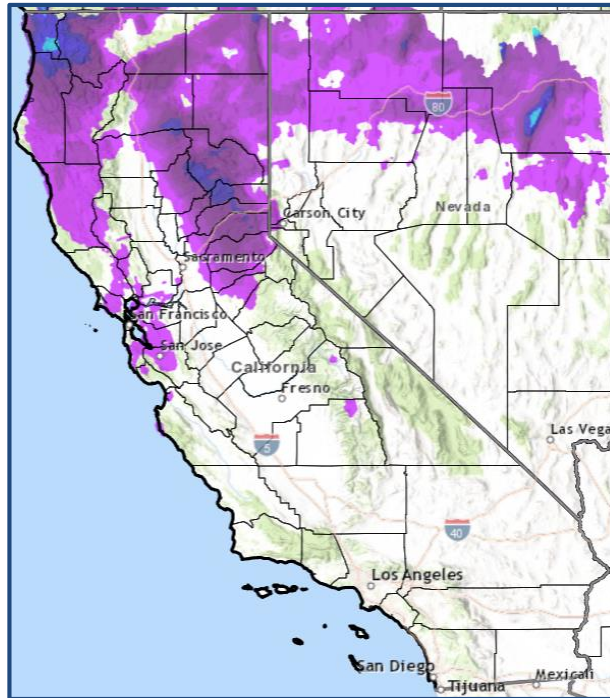

PRECIPITATION FORECAST

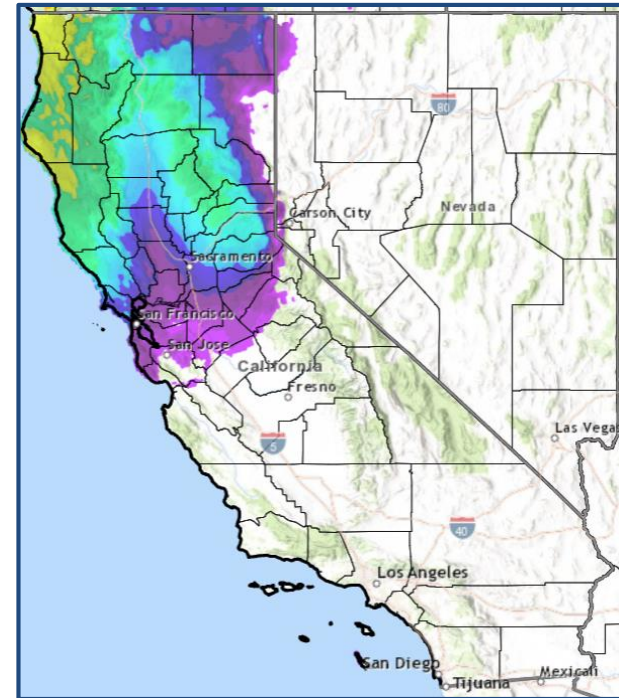

03/12/22 - 03/14/22

Saturday
